

She

*She's a woman, a woman and a lady,
A lady and a lover, a lover and a friend.*

*She's a teacher, gladly sharing what she's learned,
Teaching joy in life is earned, by abiding in Christ's love.*

*She...is more than delight; more than a tender embrace,
soft kiss in the night.
She is a lasting joy in my life...She paints a perfect picture of wife.*

*A picture of peace and understanding,
Gentle but demanding, of virtue in our lives.*

*She's a warrior, fighting unseen enemies,
Winning quiet victories, on her knees in prayer.*

*She...is more than desire; more than a longing caress, passions afire.
She has a passion for eternal life...Christ is her first love and she's my delight.*

*She's a woman, a woman and a lady,
A lady and a lover, a lover and a friend.*
