

You Have Loved Me

You have loved me
Really loved me
I'm convinced now
It's true

Not for favors
Or earthly pleasures
God shares pure Love
Through you

Though you'd perish
I would cherish
Till I'd perish
This one truth

You once loved me
Oft thought of me
Held and hugged me
In your youth

As the years pass
Toward death's impasse
And youth's flames turn
To embers bright

Still we'll love on
From youth's bright dawn
Through dusk's deep yawn
Toward the night.

Let me hear now
How Love somehow
Gave me a home down
In your heart

Glad, I'll live there
Glad, my love share
Glad my heart bare
As from the start

Ere the morning
This world's scorning
Will be silenced
By the sight

Of the winging
Of angels singing
"Come ye faithful
From Earth's night"

As "Awake" rings
Heaven's Host sings
The faithful take wings
And give flight

You will be there
A radiant Light bearer
As your Knight stares
On the sight

There with crowns laid
Where vast crowds praise
I'll my voice raise
To new heights

"Thank you Savior
For the favor
Of an angel
For a wife

She preferred me
I unworthy
Oft endured me
Through Your faith

Hear our praises
You who raised us
Married and saved us
By your Grace"
